

Bird

I wanna know what makes living on in this caged world
I wanna know if you, the little bird likes to be free
So that my own soul could be free
So come on and

Spread your wings
Spread your wings and fly away now

I wonder what you think about the human beings all around
They catch, they hurt, mistreat your friends, in fear of being all destroyed
So that your young soul can be slaught
So come on and

Spread your wings
Spread your wings and fly away now

So i let you fly away
Away to another golden place
Existing in an everlasting future
All the animals in harmony
